

Does Your Dog Need a Supplement?

We are advised by those who are in the know that, not only do we not always eat the right food, but our fruits and vegetables no longer contain all the necessary elements that these same sources may have once contained; so we are more and more dependent on food supplements.

What about your dog or cat? The difference is that they cannot tell you, in speech at least, what extras they require.

If you are old enough, you may remember a time when dogs were able to eat almost anything and live to at least fifteen years or beyond. Today, it's all too common that we hear about dogs or cats having a cancerous growth or experiencing kidney failure because of diabetes or the like—something almost unheard of a few decades ago.

Like humans, pets are exposed to pesticides, fertilizers, house-hold cleaners, sources of nasty bacteria and so forth. Free radicals are ingested in many different forms and can be root causes of cancer, cataracts, premature aging, heart disease and upwards of fifty other diseases.

With all of these diseases now being so prevalent, is it possible to turn the tide against these ailments with only a supplement keeping our pet at the peak of health and reduce exorbitant vet fees? Yes it is!

After training top working dogs for over twenty years, and always looking to find one or more supplements to extend my dog's working life and boost their performance, I have found THE supplement of choice and have brought it to Canada.

While I have never believed in a miracle drug or supplement, the product NuVet Plus is as close as you will come to just that. Before I offer any products to my clients, they are checked out thoroughly and then tested on my own animals, then on any volunteers to make sure they do all that they say and more.

NuVet Plus is a revolutionary pet supplement that took a team of veterinarians, physicians, pharmacists and nutritional scientists eight years to develop. Yet, this supplement is not costly. For example, one MAJOR trip to the vet could pay for a lifetime supply of NuVet.

The following are just a few of the health issues that NuVet alleviates:

Allergies of all kinds, Skin and Coat problems including Scratching, Biting and Hot spots

Arthritis and joint problems, Premature aging, Low energy levels, Cushing's and Addison's Disease

*Cataracts and Tear stains, Digestive problems and Heart disease Incontinence, Ear infections, as well as
Reducing some Cancers and eliminating others*

NuVet Labs are very particular as to who may purchase this product in order that it doesn't get into the hands of any puppy mills. Currently the only company you are able to purchase NuVet online from is k9trainingandsupplies.com, but we do have two groomers who have found this product to be remarkable and who have asked to carry it for us and they are; Designer Mutts, in Langdon, AB and Quality Dog Grooming in Strathmore, AB.

If you have found yourself to be one of the unfortunate ones who are watching your animal suffer with any type of illness, do both of you a large favor and start them on a path of healthiness before it gets any worse. On the other hand, don't wait until you see a problem, be proactive and get them healthy to fight disease before anything happens. It will be the best thing you can do for yourself and all your family members.
